Jaquelyn Peters and Hammond High graduate Christopher Alexander are on their way to the Prom in addition to their long term relationship

“LOVE MAKES THINGS HAPPEN!”

By: Tish Smith

Commitment, dedication, romance, and even friendship are all factors of a relationship.

For some people all it takes is a look to fall in love, for others it takes a long period of time. If you've ever had a crush on a guy/girl who didn't know you existed, then you know what it's like to fall in love from afar. Just remember: "It is better to love and lose then not to have loved at all!"

Long-lasting relationships usually form between two people who share the same interests, values, and lifestyles. It's very natural to fall in love with a friend (of the opposite sex of course). "I feel in love with my sisters friend who was four years older than me, he graduated my freshmen year but we are still together. Older men know what it takes to keep a relationship ALIVE, said and HHS student. So is there really a best way to fall in love? Not really!

In todays society people tend to be more cautious when considering a relationship. AIDS, STD, and other sexual deseases are things to consider befor making any descisions.

Senior Jeff Miller and Junior Amanda Wright smile happily in love and impatient to receive their first child.

Sophomores Daniel Mayorga and Holly Biro kiss each other softly to reveal their commitment for each other.

Seniors Yusef Gren and Juanita Whitelaw smile innocently as a couple.

Senior John Busch and his junior sweetheart Kathy Bermingham are happily in love.

Jeff Miller and Randy Tipton? Jeff, I thought you were faithful to Amanda!

"IS THIS ALLOWED?"

By: Nicole Raskosky

Here at Hammond High we are a diverse group of students whom are told what and what not to do. Aside from "NO coats in the classroom, NO hats, NO gang related activities, NO posed pictures (EHH UM !), and the rest of our rules, we pretty much know what is expected of us. BUT CAN WE DO THIS. . .

Thanks to Ann, Micheal, your hair looks much better!

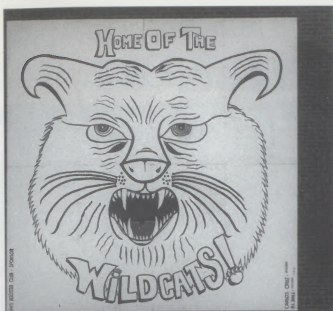

CHEATING AMY? Don't worry it's not that obvious!

"A little BORED8.K.? Senior assemblies are FUN!

BELIEVE ME THIS IS NOT POSED! (YEA, RIGHT!)

Your best friend Liza didn't notice, Noelle, just keep your hair over it!

You tell 'em Chira, Tee ain't right!

Beside the fact that Damani has his costume (and his hood up) and Randy has his hat on, they're not doing anything WRONG!

ACADEMICS

YES, Kathryn Jack you are late!!
NO PASSES, NO EXCUSES!!!

TOP: Senior B.K. Cowart tells the photographer to: "get the camera OUT of her face." "I'm trying to meet a deadline.

Sophomore Brian Monberg demonstrates Indian heritage to the Japanese visitors.

"NO!" replies Veronica Castellanos, "I'm trying to watch my weight, SORRY PAT!"

RAVE REVIEWS

By: Jasmine Crawford

Music is a way of showing emotions and a way to express ones inner soul. People have various ways of expressing themselves, whether it's facial expressions or the tone of the voice one is using, or in this case the instrument you play.

The Hammond High band is quite impressive, playing the oldies and keeping up with the times. The tradition of the band playing elevator music at graduation has been broken. Mr. Bialon now conducts his band to the tunes of up-beat music. According to Mr. Bialon, he recieved "rave reviews."

While students enjoy the band durring the Pep Rallies, parents and other guests enjoy the Wildcat's performance durring the half-time of football games.

Mr. Bialon's only regret is that there are no local high-school competitions for the band to enter. However, HHS always takes part in the All City Band festival at Morton. Highschool ISMA award winner and Vocal State finalist, Johanna Brown smile with pride of her many accomplishments.

Eric Osborne took on the many responsibilities of being the Drum Major of the HHS band as a junior. Congratulations!

A Harmonizing Nature

By: Jasmine Crawford

Unfortunately our choir isn't where director Mrs. Hunt would want it to be, she would like to have a 200 voice choir. Along with a dance group that practices ballet, tap and jazz. With all the new people she's looking for, she needs new sponsors to assist her.

Once she gets her choir department together, she wants to take them to Orlando, Florida to perform at Disney World. While these students are "planning" to go away to Florida, she is sending three of her most practiced, trained and talented students to Europe to perform! The three lucky hardworking students are: J o h a n n a Brown, Maria "Connie" Rodriguez and Rhonda Simpson.

GOOD LUCK!

PREPARING FOR THE REAL WORLD

By: Tish Smith

It's Thanksgiving Day and your mother comes down with a bad case of the flu. Your brothers and sisters need their clothes sewn, and you have to cook dinner for the whole family. How would YOU handle the situation?

That is only one of the reasons HHS offers classes to teach students about preparing food, sewing clothing, and family management.

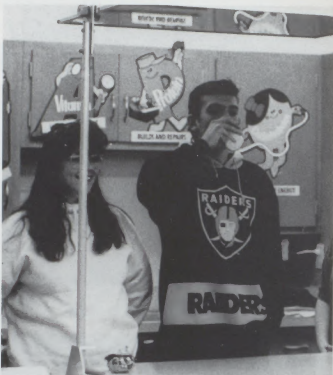

The cooking class deals with nutrition and food preparation.

Most students enjoy this class because they're allowed to eat the cuisine that they prepared.

The child development course deals with sex education, teen pregnancy, and the development of a child to the age of five.

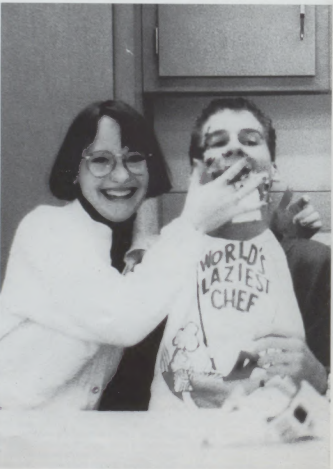

The elective classes here at HHS are preparing students for common adult situations. They will have the skills that are required to maintain a steady job.

Junior Mary Raschke, and senior Mike Pleisha enjoy home economics, while drinking milk. . . It does a body good.

While drinking Hi C, sophomore Ly Marie Alicea makes a mean face as senior Randy Tipton looks up for the pictures.

Furious because her classmate won't try her cooking, senior Jen Stanek shoves a cup cake into Randy Tiptons mouth.

"HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE"

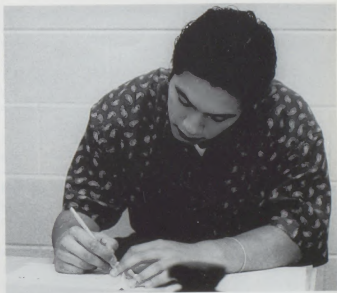

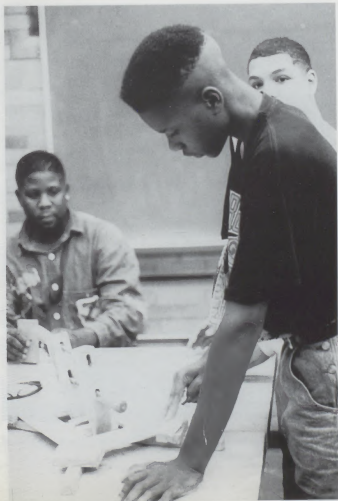

By: John Busch

The Industrial Arts department of Hammond High School consists of two areas of study: Woodshop and Mechanical Drawing. In the class of Woods you get hands on experience with such machinery as the band saw, jigsaw, radial arm saw, and lathe. The projects range from the simplicity of wooden paddle to the complexity of making a snow sled.

Mechanical drawing is also available to students who are planning to pursue a career in architecture. The class gives students the opportunity to create their own blueprints in order to be competitive in the world of drafting employment, where the field is open for creative minds.

It takes time and effort to complete blueprints, especially in Mr. Brown's class. Senior, Yusef Green shows us that it's not impossible to finish an assignment.

Arnulfo Hernandez puts forth an extra effort to complete his blueprints in order to meet Mr. Brown's deadline.

Fred Williams tries to demonstrate how to put the finishing touch on a frame, but somehow confuses himself.

Using Indian Ink, John Waldron puts his art loving attitude on a sheet of paper, for Mrs. Bauman's art class.

Using the basic skills of cutting and pasting, David Peterson, Angel Viella, and Dan Wells try to create a masterpiece in Mrs. Bauman's art class.

EXPRESSING AN ART LOVING ATTITUDE

By: Fred Merckerson

There never was an artistic period. There never was an art loving nation. (Whistler, Ten o'clock)

Although there never was an artistic period or an art loving nation, at Hammond High the art teachers express the art loving attitude. They are Mr. Ball and Mrs. Bauman.

Mr. Ball works with the AP (Advanced Placement) students to increase their drawing skills, evaluate their confidence level as well as helping the students prepare for portfolios for national judging.

The AP students also were involved in helping "The Picture Lady Program." AP students about particular artists hoping to inspire a young artist.

The AP students do many things for the community. They worked on a design for the area, it was completed over the year. They may even complete a mural for St. Margaret Hospital.

Mr. Ball's beginning classes started in April. They worked on various foundation art assignments.

Mrs. Bauman teaches are 1-2 and 3. Art one classes develop their skills by studying art history in the Art Talk textbook. The students use the knowledge they have learned in various projects. Her Art 3 classes work on advertising art. Such as lettering, cartooning and illustration.

Through these two teachers, the students have learned how to express themselves in artistic way.

"Great art is produced by men who feel acutely and nobly; it is in some sort an expression of this personal feeling."

Trying to complete her dream house, Melony Nix thinks of something to add to make the house complete.

KEEPING A HEALTHY MENTAL ATTITUDE

By: Mike Earl

Hammond High School has many activities in the gym class. Such as the popular favorites basketball and volleyball. You can also test your strength in the weight lifting room. If you don't want to do that you can run the track or get your hair wet in the pool.

Gym is one of the easiest classes to pass. All you have to do is dress and participate in class. Hammond High has many physical education staff members such as: Mr. Zasada, Mr. Badovinich, Mrs. Long and Miss Brust. They teach the students at Hammond High School how to stay in physical shape and keep a healthy mental attitude.

The team waits anxiously for Karen Lawly to serve the volleyball in gym class

Jamie Weems waits to shoot the ball.

Mrs. Long's gym class watches a classmate take control of the class.

STUDENTS MAKING CAREER DECISIONS

By: Sheila Heath

The Career Center has many opportunities to help students through their career decisions. It will also help them to decide what to major in. There are many careers to choose from such as: Drafting, Cosmetology, Bindery, Electricity, etc. One can also go there for a GED if they didn't get their Diplomas.

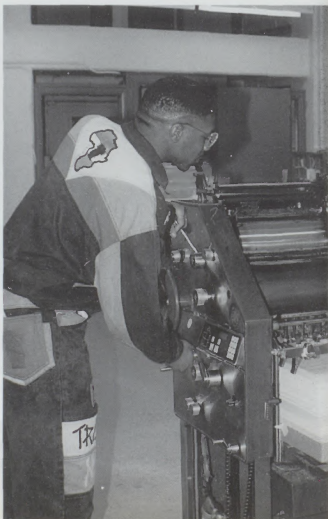

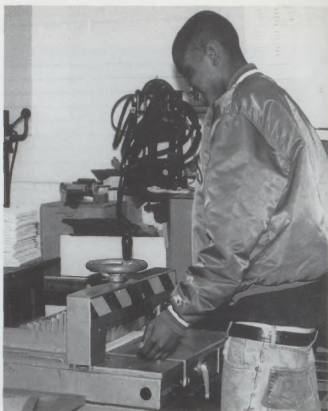

They have night classes to help students through high school, such as Criminology. Criminology is a course where you learn about crimes and justice. It also helps you get three honors college credits and one high school credit. The Career Center has many opportunities for students looking to further their careers.

Let's take a look at what's happening in the cosmetology room at the Area Career Center. Kita Williams takes time out to hook up Terira Burks hair.

Melvin Sidney House a fellow student from Hammond High, but attends Area Career Center in the afternoon is trying carefully to finish his drafting project without cutting his fingers off.

A PROGRAM FOR SENIORS ONLY

By: Sheila Heath

Hero is a program only offered to seniors who have taken all the required courses needed for graduation. If a senior chooses to take part in this course they must first maintain average grades and have good attendance records. After a student is accepted they will attend school for three periods to take required courses and the second half of the day they work for local businesses.

One is expected to learn responsibilities from this program, such as managing money, being on time, work habits, and job relations. Even though the program sounds great, there is a limit of students allowed to be involved.

The HERO sponsor, Mrs. Thomas takes her last photo for the yearbook, as she is retiring this year. She smiles and says "she's proud of her group of kids and she will miss them all."

WORKING TO BECOME INDEPENDANT

By: Sheila Heath

In a small room on the first floor across the hall from the pool, is a classroom that many of us are not aware of. It's a classroom for person's with disabilities. It is called a Community Based Program. These students spend 50% of the time out in the community learning many things we take for granted. They learn how to order food at a resturant, wash their own laundry at a laundry mat, and even walk across the street. This class has eight students with severe disabilities, a teacher, 2 aids, and a job coach. A job coach helps these students learn skills on actual jobs, such as Burger King, and the library. Some of the students have actual jobs at local sites. Chris Chambers works at the library. They both work part time, and they will continue to work there after graduation. These students may not learn to read or write out of a textbook, but they do learn other things. Such as how to become more independent after graduation.

Chad Summers plays Bethoven on the class keyboard.

HANDLING THE WORLD THROUGH A KEYBOARD

By: Mike Earl

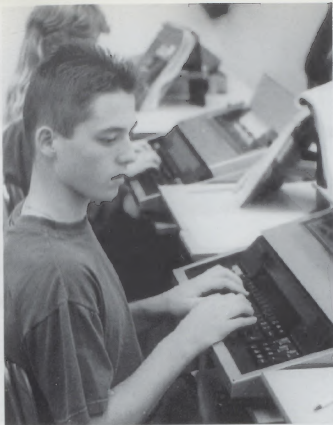

"If you know how to type then you will not have to spend alot of money for people doing your assignments in college,"quoted Mr. Moreton. There are about 55% of the students in college that don't know how to type. This is one of the reasons you should take typing. Some of the other reasons is to make money and the working conditions for people are good. The work conditions are clean, comfortable and usually have good spacing.

Many things in this world are handled through a keyboard, including computer entry materials. Women were the only people who took typing about ten years ago, and now more men are taking keyboarding instead of women, because of the computers. But now a lot of computer industrial controls are measuring equipment and are access to buying a computer, which is access to buying a keyboard. Typing or keyboarding is skill that will help you make money in the future and provide you with good working conditions.

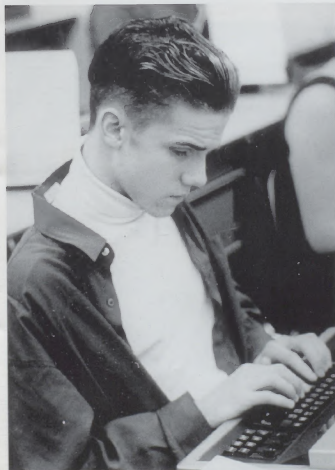

Mrs. McQuigg helps Michell Hoffmen with her work.

Dezerie Jackson puts her fingers to work, while trying to finish her typing assignment.

Ron Sledge sits in Mrs. McQuigg's class and waits for the assignment.

Zaddon Hardin waits for Mr. Schischka in business class.

IT'S REQUIRED

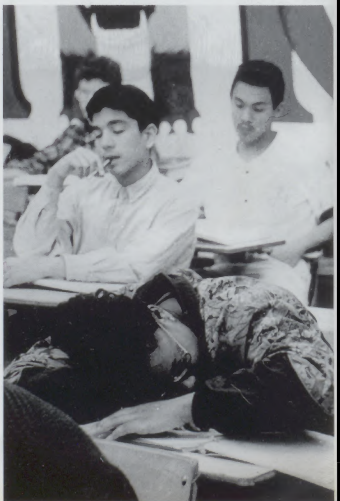

The students at Hammond High School are required to have atleast five semesters of social studies. Your sophomore year you are required to take two semesters of world civilization, junior year you are to take two semesters of US history and in order to graduate you must take government and economics. This year the US history and government classes are being put into groups and acting out as the Congress and passing Bills. As for the economic classes they are taking DOW notes and learning about the stockmarkets.

After a hard day of studying, Shawn Stephens, Chris Martin, and Gilbert Machuca take a break and relax.

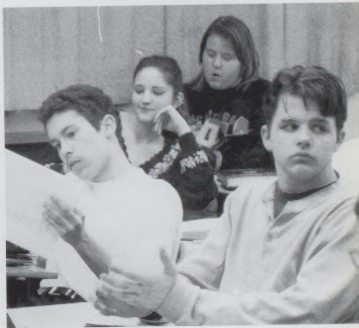

Eddie Fragoso and Jessie Rivera look for the answer, while Marisol Ceballos takes a short nap.

Mr. Galosich's class "concentrates" as he lectures about U.S. History. Some people at HHS actually pay attention?

Senior Randy Tipton concentrates on Mr.Kucers Dow notes. Stay awake Randy, or you'll get a red dot!!!

Leo Reyes and Tabatha Roberts try desperately to find the answer to Mr. Aldrins Question, while Steve Delano says "who cares!"

Preparing For The Future

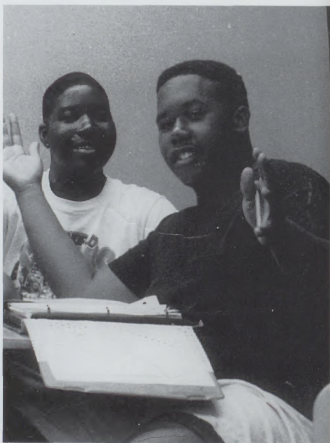

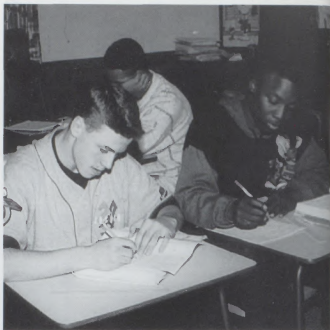

By: Troy Walker

In today's ever changing world, the need for a strong computer and Mathematical background is in demand. At Hammond High School, the students walk into algebra, geometry, trigonometry and AP calculus classes where it seems as if the teachers speak another language and missing even one day could determine your fate. The homework is very time consuming but it helps the students to understand the lectures. Although math is only required for two years, students who are looking to further their education past high school are encouraged to take four years worth of math.

In the computer department, Mr. Ruff handles two different classes; computer literature and computer programming. In these two classes students work on the various functions of the computer. Students have various assignments dealing with the print shop disk, while in the computer programming students make their disks. Both classes take the time to give the students the computer background they need. In today's ever changing world, the need for a strong computer and Mathematical background is in demand. At Hammond High School, the students walk into algebra, geometry, trigonometry and AP calculus classes where it seems as if the teachers speak another language and missing even one day could determine your fate. Brian Swanson seems to be bored by his work on the computer.

EVERYONE HAS THE OPPORTUNITY TO LEARN

By: Fred Merkersen

"I am biased in favor of boys learning English: and then I would let the clever ones learn English as an honor, and Greek as a treat," (Winston Churchill: My Early Life (1930) "Roving Commission")

In the previous quote, Winston Churchill would seem to have the ATTITUDE that if a person is not smart that individual does not have the right to learn.

At Hammond High the English teachers do not express this attitude. They feel that everyone should have the opportunity to learn. Will the students accept this opportunity? That is the question. Whether it is Mr. Deak, Mrs. Robison or Mrs. Jones, they believe in teaching their students the language of English. Mr. Deak begins to prepare his students for their literature classes by teaching the basics of English language. On the first day of school he tests his freshmen on the eight parts of speech. His seniors focus on English Literature, read William Shakespeare, and read and write poems.

Mrs. Robison expands the average mind by reviewing grammar and preparing students for writing small stories.

Mrs. Jones also expresses the learning of imagination by writing short stories. They also have to write "Term Papers."

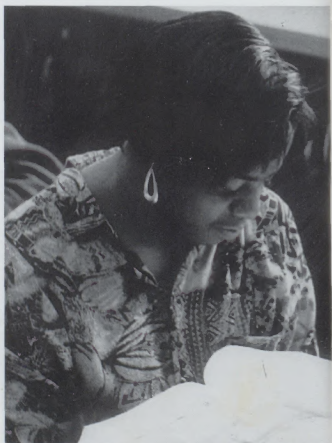

These three teachers and seven others (Mr. Schneider, Ms. Parkhurst, Mrs. Silverman, Ms. Bochman, Mrs. Williams, Mr. Harwell and Mr. Pramuck) help to expand our reading and writing skills.

"The man who does not read good books, has no advantage over the men who can not read them." (UNKNOWN)

Mr. Deak's sixth hour freshman English class listens intently to him speak of the number of students who have failed the eight parts of speech quiz.

Mr. Lee and his students Kleith Hunter, Travis Simmons, Terrence Williams, Regan Robinson, and Juan Jones take a break from measuring vectors in the gym.

In Mr. Sizemore's class Richie Bochenek writes down the weight of the books, while Mike Pote observes.

Missy Estes stares at her physics book, hoping the answer will jump out at her.

Mr. Lee's physical science class tries to be nice by laughing at one of his corny jokes.

Trying to catch his balance, Juan Jones tries to pay attention to Mr. Lee.

EVERY ASPECT OF LIFE

By: Vette Leonard

Is science only about the environment?

What about the chemical compounds, and dissecting animals? Science is the study of life and all that effects it.

Basic science, general science, biology, chemistry, and physical science are offered at Hammond High to give students the oppretunity to explore every aspect of life and all that effects it.

One would think that each science class would do some form of dissecting, but in Mr. Malis's Physical Science class things change. Mr. Malis challenges his students with measurements and problem solving with vectors. He also show his expertise in the solar system durring his earth science classes.

Mr. Sizemore combines mathematics with the field of science, (THEY WERN'T KIDDING when they said you NEED math!). Right next door Mrs. DeYoung, the only female scientist, deals with evaluation and dissecting. In the same corner a new addition to the science staff, Mr. Doughty is teaching physical and general science.

After all the confusion things are back to normal in Mr. Hayden's biology class, students are using microscopes to figure out what life is all about.

Sitting at their desks, Monica Santos and Hermelinda Mirando, work together on their lab durring Mr. Hayden's science class.

GUTEN TAG! HOLA! BON JOUR!

By Takisha Smith The foreign language department is very active in broadening each students horizons for their years after high school.

Spain, Germany, and France are the three countries each language travels to (hypothetically). Each language takes atleast, two field trips a year. German students go to Germantown in the fall, and to a German resturant in the spring. All second hour language classes have an international breakfast where the students sample different foods from the different cultures of each country.

The foreign classes meet in one class and sing christmas carols in the language that they've learned during the Christmas holiday, to help people get into the holiday spirit.

Ms. Kula and Mrs. Rapp teach spanish, Mrs. Urlick teaches french, and Mrs. Kostopolous teaches german. The teachers stress the importance of knowing more than one language. It is not required to have a foreign language in high school, but the experience is worth all the while.

Senior Amy Casmir says "Since I have taken Deutsch for four years, I feel it will benefit me for my college career."

Mrs. Rapp's class takes a break from learning as they chat among themselves.

Senior Kelly McGinty finds her third and last year of Deutsch an intellectual study that will broaden her horizons in the years to come.

Sophomore Laura Baughard finishes the period by having another classmate French braid her hair to go along with the subject.

A Touch of Scandinavia

This year, Hammond High was lucky enough to have not one, but two foreign exchange students. One of our exchange students was from Norway and the other was from Sweden. The two boys' names were Anders Erikson and Mathias Gabrielsson. Although Mathias could only stay for one semester, he made plenty of friends and even managed to pick up a few American customs. Anders, on the other hand, stayed a full year and enjoyed the extra time here. They both agreed that America is a pretty cool place to be, but, of course, preferred their own countries and customs.

Our students and community could learn a thing or two from our foreign friends. Both students found time to have fun and socialize, but managed to keep their grades in tip-top condition.

"See my pearly whites?" What a freak of nature, but we love our exchange student Anders anyway.

Mathias Gabrielsson vogues for the camera in front of our chemistry mural.

Mathias Gabrielsson says, "I am Hans from Sweden and I am going to pump you up along with my sidekick Frans."

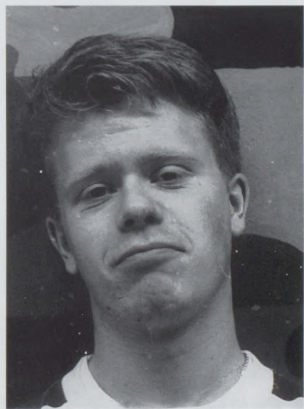

Anders doing another class's homework while he is supposed to be listening to Mrs. Uricks lecture.

"You want me, don't you?" says Norwegian student Anders Erikson.

Mathias Gabrielson and good friend Todd Adamczyk prove their "mad scientist" skill in chemistry class.

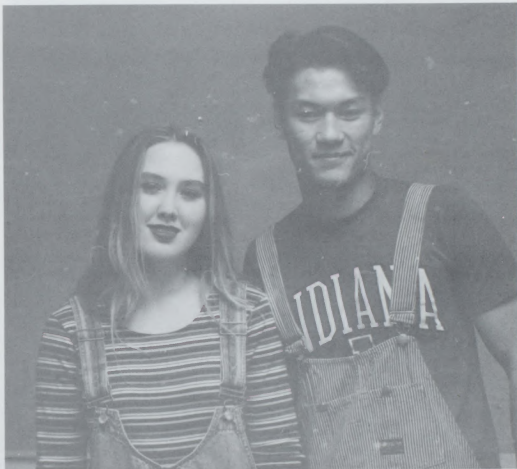

"I am Frans and I am going to pump you up, too!" says Norwegian foreign exchange student Anders Erikson.

RELAYING THE TRUTH

By: B.K. Cowart

The 1993 yearbook staff began the year with high hopes of improvement, but by the end of the year fell short of their expectations. People take the course with sleep in mind, however, they are rudely awakened when faced with time consuming layouts, deadlines, and ads to sell.

In the past few years there has been many complaints of the finished product, but dedicated people are getting involved and putting in the extra time. "I, for one, attended camp my junior year to learn more about the job I would be taking on." I also stayed five days after school was out to complete ALL the UNfinished layouts lazy people just never got around to.

This year, more people decided to give the extra effort by completing ALL the UNfinished layouts. You may thank the Dunes staff for all the lovely artwork in this book! But I'm going to thank Jason Dommer for doing all the computer work, Veronica Castellanos for writing extra stories, Kathryn Knapp and Niki Raskowski for doing the photography work, and Missy Estes for all those mug-shots.

STUDENTS TAKE A STAND

BY:TISH SMITH

SADD stands for "students against driving drunk," at Hammond High this organization is taken very seriously. Mrs.Jones, the junior english teacher, sponsors SADD and helps organize the student activities. This year Red Ribbon Week was a huge success! For the first time ever, HHS was transformed into a thing of beauty. The cooperation of the students and staf made all the hard work worthwhile. The messages conveyed through banners, posters, essays, poems, and other decorations reached many students as they stopped to observe or read them.The entire school participated, that is definitely something unusual.

Aside from planning Red Ribbon Week, the group, along with Mrs.Jones guidance, organized a SADD

Lock In. They wanted to reach every student as an individual, NOT just as another HHS student. This time would allow students to get to know one another more closely, and really understand where each person was coming from. The Lock In was a great success, "it gives us something to look forward to nest year."

"I have enjoyed being president of SADD for my senior year. I will miss all of the activities we participated in."

The Key to Service

By Heather Cole

Key Club is an international high school organization (Sponsored around the world by Kiwanis) with members dedicated to service. Because of the close relationship between Kiwanis and Key Club, their members often enjoy close fellowship while cooperating on projects that benefit our communities.

"Through Key Club, we're able to contribute to the development of our communities, and at the same time, develop lasting friendships. But most important, we learn about ourselves and how much we can accomplish when we work together, explained one Key Club member. The variety of Key Club service work is as broad as the need it fills. The elderly, the disabled, and the underprivileged are all benefitted by the Key Club sponsored projects

The goals for the Key Club are: to better the community, to better the school and the quality of education, to give members experience in leadership, to give members experience in working together, and to provide for the best possible atmosphere of caring in the home, school, and community.

BURSTING WITH ENERGY

by Jasmine Crawford

Our Hammond High pep club is made up of some very dedicated fans. There are plenty of members, and since Mrs. Silverman has been the sponsor for this organization, they've held several events.

They sell T-shirts, and they've dedicated a possession arrow to the basketball team. Besides all of these things, they have an annual Homecoming dance for both seasons, a pizza party for the members and members earn sweatshirts by attending games and meetings.

"Pep club was a very fun, exciting, hyped experience. I was a Basketball Homecoming Nominee. I was a very active member and it was a great experience." said Denise Mitchell.

Student Government Taking Charge

By Heather Cole

The members of the student government have a time consuming job. People don't think they do much of anything, however they are very busy doing a lot of things, such as: picking dates for our homecoming and the activities for the week, finding a hall and planning the menu and decorations for winter formal. Many people complain about the ideas and decorations for winter formal, but very few people come to the meetings to put a vote in. Meetings for student government are on Wednesday after school in room 8 or in the gym class. The meetings are open to everyone.

A BUMPY, yet successful season!

By John Busch

"It ain't the size of the dog in the fight, it's the size of the fight in the dog," quoted Anthony Elliot.

The HHS football team had an up and down year ending the season with a record of 4-4-0 and 3rd in conference. Although the Wildcat's had a bumpy, yet "successful" season the team had a "Never give up attitude!"

The Wildcat's opened the season with a 34-12 loss to Munster, but bounced back and put a "whoopen" on Westside with a score of 42-12.

However, the winning streak didn't last long when playing E.C. Central and Gavit. Those perhaps, and the devastating Clark game were the toughest losses of the season. Each game should have been a "for sure win" in the scoring cloume.

Despite the loses, the Wildcat's played with a lot of integrity and heart. Due to a lack of mantallity on the team, the Cat's lost a few critical games.

The coaching staff is hoping for a better over all record in conference when the standing conference changes to the Lake 10.

SERIOUS SPIRIT

By: Tish Smith

The Hammond High cheerleaders are hardworking, supportive, and ready to take on any opponent. They practice every Monday and Thursday to get pepped up for each game. Some people think cheerleading should not be considered a sport, but with all the difficult practices, time, and effort that goes into it, "SPORT" is definitely the word.

Most of the fans enjoy their performance and appreciate their Wildcat Pride and dedication. It isn't easy wearing a little skirt in freezing weather, or cheering on the sidelines in the pouring rain. It takes a true athlete to endure the pain of a twisted ankle and still go on, to be at every game rain or shine, to be the support of HHS pride, to practice hard, to organize as well as perform, and of course to be badmouthed and take it. Let's face it cheerleaders deserve the credit they work for.

REBUILDING YEAR FOR CATS

On the night of October 22nd, the girl's volleyball team ended another season in the Whiting Sectional, at Whiting High School. They were defeated by the Clark Pioneers who, just a few days earlier had trouble defeating the Cats in a conference game.

The girls weren't fully disappointed because they managed to improve their game a lot over the 1190-91 school year. Their record that year was 5-12 (1-5 in conference), but this year, their record 7-10 and 2-4 in conference which landed them just under the .500 mark.

Despite having lost half of the '90-91 team to graduating seniors, the Wildcats had tremendous cooperation from the new additions to the team who were mostly lower classmen.

In addition to the new team, they received a new varsity coach. Mrs. Dawn Daley came to us from Andrean

High School, not knowing a thing about Hammond High's Volleyball team, she made it into something to be proud of.

We didn't have any all-conference all-stars, but Cherri Howard and Gretchen Davies did, however, make honorable mention. Cherri Howard also won Hammond High's Fall Sports Hero with impressive stats.

The Lady Cats hope to have an even better '93-94 season, with all but one returning starter.

The Hammond High girls' swim team had an up and down year. The "Catfish" finished their season 6-9 and finished second in conference. Their team captains this year were senior Adrienne Mayorga and junior Heather Hanning. Adrienne was the conference champ in the 100 yard butterfly. Along with Adrienne, Heather Hanning, Chris Spisak, and Caryn Corriere set a school record in the 200 yard free style with a time of 2:02.94. For the first time, H.H.S. had a diver: Maria Spector, who broke the 6 and 11 group dive record.

The swim team also had a personal first with seventeen girls on the team at the end of the season; they started with twenty.

In the sectionals, the Wildcats placed fifth out of eight. Mant swimmers managed to place, which was also something positive to draw off of for the next season.

The Wildcat swim team was coached by Phyllis Malis. The "Catfish" welcomed their first assistant coach: Mimi Sellis, who coached diving.

GIVING THEIR BEST SHOT

by Ebony Andrews

This year, our JV boys' basketball team gave it their best shot. They had lots of enthusiasm, they played hard, and therefore they were very successful. When asked to comment on the season, they replied "It was good", "we worked hard." When you've tried your hardest, that's all that matters. When asked which was their greatest victory, they replied "Over Whiting!"

Mike Pote, David McAdams, and DeMario Watkins all said that they had a pretty good season. I'm sure their coach was proud of them.

PINNING DOWN THE CONFERENCE

by Pat Darrough

The Wildcat wrestling team completed yet another successful season. Our matmen finished the dual season with an 11-6-1 record, but that came back strong to finish the season by pinning down the Lake Shore Conference title. They continued their success by blowing away the field at sectionals and placing a strong second at state regionals.

Seniors David Ivie, Alfredo Martinez, Lee Marks, and junior Pat Darrough captured individual conference, while junior Bob Eberle and sophomore Daniel Mayorga also captured sectional titles. Mayorga and Marks won regional titles while Darrough, Eberle, and Ivie finished second in their weight classes to qualify for the Merrillville semi-state.

Lee Marks was the sole state qualifier this year. He placed second at the semi-state, suffering his only loss of his senior year. At the state meet, Lee tore through the field. He allowed only one point to be scored upon him until the championship match. Lee then faced the same opponent who defeated him at the semi-state. This, however, was to be a different story. Lee became out 125lb champion by defeating his nemesis 3-2.

It's not over yet! Lee then went on to place 4th in the nation and became an All-American while doing so. Lee is also this year's recipient of the Leslie London Award as he was chosen our athlete of the year.

LADY CATS LACK "UNITY"

by Missy Estes

The Lady Cats suffered a tough season in 1993. Only having three seniors on the team made it hard for the cats to gel. The team was mixed with experienced and inexperienced players. Though the Lady Cats never gave up, they fell short most of the season. The team had 6 wins and 17 losses. Sectional play started on May 29. The Lady Cats faced Munster in the first round and lost 7-0. This was a disappointing season for all, but the cats held their heads high to the very end.

The team had five returning juniors. They were Veronica Castellanos, Missy Estes, B.K. Cowart, Tenny Flores, and Sherri Mathis. This was also Coach Serafin and Coach Schneider's last year after coaching for 11 years.

DEFENDING A TITLE?

From day one the Wildcats had a lot of hard work ahead of them. They lost four varsity key players, so the Cats had a few important positions to fill. Stepping up to take on the responsibilities were juniors Antonio Bucio, Julio Aguilar, O.T. Cruz, and senior Rob Barron.

The season itself was not as rewarding as Mr. Carroll had hoped it to be, but they learned from their mistakes and built on their advantages. At times things were a bit frustrating for the leading players, they knew what they wanted but didn't have the power to get it. The Cats were out to defend a title, "ILSC TRNY CHAMPS."

They proved they could hang with almost any team and made it to the final of the TRNY. The Cats faced BNI and suffered a 2-1 lose, due to a penalty kick.

Junior Antonio Bucio led the team in both scoring and assists and was named the 1993 MVP. Tony, along with Julio Aguilar, was also selected to the first-team All-Conference roster.

A Team Worth Watching

By: Kathryn Knapp

The 1992-93 Varsity Girls Tennis Team surprised many people. The girls started off the season being undefeated. However, as the competition grew tougher, the girls tended to get lazier. There is no doubt about it, this was truly a team worth watching.

Overall the girls had a tremendous season, which made Coach Bowers proud. Amy Casmir was a first place winner at #3 singles in the last year of ILSC Championships. Melony Nix and Amy Villareal, #2 doubles, placed second. Sectionals were quite challenging this year. In the first round, Coach Bowers picked Munster. Munster soon put H.H.S. out of the picture.

Venus Mayans has played since her sophomore year. Kelly McGinty also joined her sophomore year. The following year she took over #1 singles and has been successful in that position since day one.

Adrienne Mayorga has played singles during most of her tennis career. Amy Casmir has played both singles and doubles. She has made tennis an exciting game to watch. Melony Nix has played doubles for two years.

Underclassmen, Kathryn Knapp and Amy Villareal played at #1 and #2 doubles. Without them, their partners would be helpless. The girls were definitely fun to watch. They may not have won the highest awards possible, but they had fun and impressed a few people.

JUST YOU AND I

The Hammond High Student Government hosted the 1993 Winter Formal, "Just You And I," on the evening of January 30, 1993. The dance was held at St. Demetrius Hall, close to home.

This turn-about dance normally does not have the greatest turnout, people are usually more concerned with Prom, but this year 104 couples attended the dance. "There was more senior interest this year, I think they all waited for their last year"; said Heidi Mize, Vice President of the student government.

Maybe seniors waited, or maybe HHS has spirited underclassmen! Some people, such as freshmen, take advantage of Winter Formal because they are not allowed to attend Prom. Prom is a privilege, something freshmen have not yet earned! Sophomore Maria Spector commented that "I really expected more!" Sorry but it's just a dance.

On the night of May 14, 1993 approximately one-hundred couples attended prom. This wonderful evening was held at the House of Lynnwood in Lynnwood Illinois at 6:00 p.m.

The junior class worked hard to give the seniors a memorable Prom, one just doesn't know how true this statement is. The picture background was plain, people weren't allowed to take balloons home, no one was allowed to go to their car (even if it was just to get a role of film) the DJ (no comment), the dance floor was as big as Ms. Warners office, but other than that it was o.k.

RUDELY INTERRUPTED

The class of 1993 finally took their seats in the gym, in front of the entire school, to be honored for their many accomplishments.

Like the years in the past there was one name repeated several times, was it because he deserved it or because the administrators decided they didn't like anyone else?

This year Honors Day was rudely interrupted by boo's and howls of pure jealousy. Senior Terry Deak, the class Valedictorian recieved many awards for academic excellence that he worked extre mely hard for. When Terry was being honored on stage, he was booed by his FELLOW classmates, WHY?? Terry is a scholar who will succeed in life, the question now, is "will you!"

A WHOLE NEW WORLD

Commencement of the class of 1993 was held June 6, 1993, 2:00 p.m., in Hammond High gym. This special day marked the end of twelve long years of hard work and difficult challenges, but also marked the day of a "Whole New World."

SENIORS, what a beautiful thing to be called, there's so much power behind that word. Strength, endurance, dedication, heart, drive, love, friendship, challenges, finals, GRADUATION . . . but now what? What does a senior do with the power when their not a senior anymore? Their FRESHMEN all over again!

Now is the time to remember all the long hours of work that went into ones education and strive to broaden that. Only a person can make a difference within themselves, and now we have the POWER to do it . . . it's called education.
